Kate Richmond, PhD., is Associate Professor of Psychology and Director of Women & Gender Studies at Muhlenberg College. She is widely published in the areas of multicultural psychology, gender ideology, men and masculinity, transgender resiliency, feminist therapy, and trauma. Her forthcoming book, an undergraduate textbook, Psychology of Women & Gender, will be published by W. W. Norton in January 2019. Dr. Richmond has served on several divisional executive boards for the American Psychological Association and was awarded the Sue Rosenberg Zalk Award for Distinguished Service to the Society for the Psychology of Women. She is a co-founder of the Institute for Academic Feminist Psychologists, an organization that hosts professional development events for early career scholars, and she serves as a Think Tank member for the Inside/Out Prison Exchange Program at SCI-Graterford Prison. In addition to teaching, she maintains a private practice, where she specializes in the treatment of trauma and issues related to gender. Dr. Richmond has been recognized on several occasions for excellence in teaching, including being the recipient of the Paul C. Empie Memorial Award for Excellence in Teaching.
